

The diagram shows a central white rectangular area representing the final product. This area is surrounded by a light blue border, which is further enclosed by a red border. Two vertical green lines are positioned within the white area, one on each side of the center. A horizontal black line with arrows at both ends passes through the center of the white area. Arrows point from the text labels to their respective lines: two arrows point from the red line text to the red border, one arrow points from the blue line text to the blue border, and two arrows point from the green line text to the green lines.
