

The diagram shows a rectangular print layout with a red border. A horizontal blue line runs across the middle. Two vertical green lines are positioned on either side of the center. A horizontal double-headed arrow is located below the blue line, spanning the width of the layout. A vertical double-headed arrow is located to the left of the green lines, spanning their height. Text annotations explain the function of each line: the red line is the cut line, the blue line is the safety line, and the green lines are the fold lines. Dimensions for the finished size and bleed are provided at the bottom right.
